

TRAINING OF TEACHERS

Inclusive Social Sciences –
Grades K-5

DETAILS

Please join us for a foundation-setting, two-day, highly interactive training to learn about the new, inclusive social sciences lessons for students in grades K-5. Receive an overview of the new lessons, and build comfort and skills in ensuring elementary level social sciences fully reflects the new Oregon State Learning Standards and best practices in recognizing and celebrating individual and community diversity. Includes a copy of all lessons, along with a teacher's guide for additional support!

WHO THIS TRAINING IS FOR:

- K-5 Oregon public school teachers

WHO THIS TRAINING IS NOT FOR:

- Administrators, curriculum developers, other support staff who are not K-5 public school teachers
- Middle and high school teachers, administrators, curriculum developers and/or other support staff
- Parents/caregivers who are not also K-5 public school teachers in Oregon

AT A GLANCE

WHEN

- October 24 - 25, 2024
- 9:00am – 4:30pm (both days)

WHERE

- State Library of Oregon,
250 Winter St., Salem, OR

SPACE IS LIMITED!

RSVP HERE by Wednesday, October 9th. If you have any questions or need help registering, please reach out to Susannah Lightbourne-Maynard at slightbournemaynard@pps.net

NOTE: Participants must commit to attending both days, for the entire day, on both.

This training is provided free of charge! Breakfast and lunch will be provided on both days. Travel costs are NOT included.